The UK is still open for business. Premium prices, drive for innovation, a market of 66 million people, connections to the rest of the world and a reliable business environment are just some of the advantages that convince companies from all over the world to choose trade with or set up a business in the UK.

Learn more about the British market, get information on how to go global through the UK, find out about what has change after Brexit. Our special guest from the UK, His majesty's Trade Commissioner for Europe, Chris Barton, will present opportunities and strengths of the UK market. Tea with Reason in Kranjska Gora is organised in cooperation with SPIRIT Slovenia and the Ministry of Economy, Tourism and Sport.
